THE CABINET DIVIDED. "There was quite a row in the Cabinet meeting of Tuesday over this matter. The members are divided as to what is best to of acting Chairman Kilgore. It further recited a report in the Washington Post that the bill is being withheld from the Presido in the premises. This is the cause of the bill being held up by Congressman Kilgore.

"What the Administration wants is to hold this bill back until something definite in heard from China with record to the dent by the Committee on Enrolled Bills, and declares that such action of the com-mittee is without authority of law. It diis heard from China with regard to the treaty. Every day is of just so much value. It is a crisis with the Administration, and rects the Committee on Enrolled Bills to transmit the bill to the President without further delay.

McMillan of Tennessee raised the point of order that the resolution did not present Mr. Cleveland recognizes it. The unwritten rules of the House required that a bill should be delivered promptly to WHAT SENATOR STEWART SAYS.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, is as mad as a hornet. He characterized the action of Congressman Kilgore as nothing short of revolutionary. "You may," he says, "quote me as saying that there is an undercurrent about this business that no one likes. McMillan remarked that the gentleman admitted that no rule had been violated adding to the control of the control of the country, they are able to pay handsomely for it. The purpose of Mr. Kilgore in holding up this bill is to ultimately defeat it. What he intends to do is to hold it to within less than ten days of admitted that no rule had been violated, and the trouble was in the gentleman's own mind, and the foundation of the trouble had not existed twenty-four hours.

Morrow replied vehemently that, tepresenting a constituency that was interested in this question, he had a right to insist that bills which had passed the House should receive proper consideration and

COURTSHIP OF KATYBIDS.

Gallantry of the Males Governed by Mysterious Rules of Insect Etiquette. In the twilight of an evening in last August my attention was drawn to quite an unusual syllabic sound-ka, ka, kat, ka, writes Mary Treat in the Chautauquan. The repetition was sharp and incisive, indicating that the musicians were young and full of life, and why they did not complete the sentence—Katy did, Katy did it—aroused my curiosity sufficiently to incite an investigation of the matter. Stepping out on the veranda, I soon found Miss Katy on a vine which runs over the piazza, surrounded by a group of gallants. Whether she was a sad flirt and had brought the infliction upon herself of so many callers, or whether it was her own inherent loveliness and beauty that at-Committee on Enrolled Bills, received the protection of his Democratic colleagues on the floor to-day for withholding from the President the Chinese exclusion bill. It is seldom that even the lower house so far forgets itself as to allow one of its members to totally abrogate the action of both bodies, as it did in this case. But this is not an evil of to-day, nor is Mr. Kilgore, of Texas, alone responsible for it. The abuse is one of long standing. It has been resorted to many times at the close of a session of Congress in order to defeat certracted so many at the same time, was not for me to know; I could see only the result of some law or katydid etiquette which was inexplicable to me.

There were five of these young suitors looking exactly alike, and, so far as I could see, no preference was shown to one more than to another by the fair Katy, who was seated on a spray of honeysuckle and embowered by an overhanging cluster of belated flowers. Her visitors walked around her in a slow, courtly manner, with their long antennæ lying straight back over their wings. But every little while one and then another of the number would politely salute her by bringing forward his antennæ and gently waving it over her; then would come this sharp that passed both houses of Congress over three months ago. When asked the cause of this long delay, the acting Chairman replied that it was owing to a rush of work; that precedence had to be given to bills of chorus of voices-ka, kat, kat-all talking at once, when the suitor would subside

This depends sooner reached the party than the first Miss Katy began to rise up until she stood mitted as much to your correspondent this afternoon. Nevertheless, he said he should not deliver the bill to-day. When asked for the reason he refused to say, other than that on the very tips of her toes, looking like a young giantess, and all the time waving her antennæ as if to dismiss her, while the sharp click of the males resounded on every side, as if assuring her of their entire devotion, and that they would not be thought to be over, but these new cases thought to be over, but these new cases this raorning. This is the general experience. And I think it a sin and a shame. Few women have more than one opportunity to marry and that ought to be accompanied by all the frills and frivolties that the best novel writer ever dreamed of. France Experimenting With New Rifles and Smokeless Powder. LONDON, September 20th .- The continued improvement in guns and explosives is ex-citing deep attention in military circles of Europe, and the impression is gaining ground among the smaller continental States that France is gradually becoming disinclined to refuse the challenge some what ostentiously paraded by Kaiser Wil-helm. The reason for this is found in the superiority of the Lebel rifle, added to the discovery of smokeless powder. Minister De Freycinet has ordered that troops armed with magazine rifles of the 1886 pattern must use breech-loaders of the 1884 type in order that the mystery surrounding the powder used and its cartridges shall run no risk of being revealed. The military authority, La France, doubts the wisdom of this order, and thinks that the simultaneous use of different rifles will tend only to confusion. Besides this, it is urged that if only the old type were used in the maneuvers the troops would fail to audibie, and firing will not reveal the whereabouts of enemies. The Military Zeitung holds that this matter demands the serious attention of every war office in Europe. It is difficult to decide how the method of fighting will have to be modified under the influence of

THE PRESIDENT'S DELICATE SITUA-

The San Francisco Examiner says "the President is in a delicate position" concerning the Chinese restriction bill. Well. yes, so he is. But the position of the President is not half so amusing as that of the Examiner. It absolutely has the shamefacedness to rebuke Republican Senators for voting for the Scott bill. It says: "The bill was introduced on behalf of the Administration, passed as a Democratic programme, and as such was sent to the Senate, where it passed with one Democratic and two Republican votes against it, and was held back by a motion to reconhad been rejected. The Democrats had resolved not to let the session close without whining and begging article we would not American bill.

The Republican Senators determined, by forcing the issue before an answer could be received from China, to put the President in the position either of disappointing the Pacific Coast or of violating the national faith. That they had any sincere desire for Chinese exclusion nobody who has studied their record could impering for an instant

REJECTED MANUSCRIPT.

E. B. Cheeseborough, in the Writer, concludes that the history of rejected manuscript is one of encouragement to the writer, Mr. Cheeseborough is in grave error in this. He bases his conclusion upon the fact that a great many distinguished writers have had some of their best manuscripts stamped "rejected" and returned with "thanks." Thus, Mark Twain's "Innocents" was tabooed by all leading publishers ; Dr. Holland's letters were refused; McMarter's "History of the people of the United States" was rejected by Appleton's readers: Aldrich's "Baby Bell" was thrown out by the Knickerbocker; Marion Harland's best novel suffered rejection; New York pub- plates? ### GENERAL NOTICES.

SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. PEED'S MILL, TEXAS, June 20, 1888—The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: One of my children was troubled with rheumatism and boils for about two years. We gave her various kinds of medicine, but without profit, and began to despair of curing her at all. I was persuaded to try your Swift's Specific. After she had used several bottles the discases all disappeared, and she is now a hale, hearty, and healthy girl twelve years old. Another child has just become afflicted in the same way, and I am using the S. S. S. and anticipate a prompt and permanent cure. N. C. Wagdoner.

RICH HILL, Mo., July 7, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: Our little girl when but three weeks old broke out with eczema. We tried the prescriptions from several good doctors, but without any special benefit. We tried S. S. S., and by the time one bottle was gone her head began to heal, and by the time she had taken six bottles she was completely cured. Now she has a full and heavy head of hair—a robust, hearty child. I feel it but my duty to make this statement. Respectfully, H. T. Shobe.

CHATTANOGA. TENN., June 27, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: In 1886 I contracted blood poison, and at once sought a physician, who treated me for several months. By his advice I went to Crab Orchard Springs, Ky., where his course of treatment was carefully observed. I recovered, as I thought, but the next spring pimples began to appear on my face and body. These gradually increased to sores and running ulcers. I was advised to try S. S. S., and immediately after taking it I commenced to improve, slowly at first, but more rapidly afterwards, and soon nothing remained to tell of my trouble. My blood is now thoroughly cleansed, and my system free from taint, and I owe my present condition—a perfect cure—to your medicine. I cheerfully give this statement that others who have suffered as I have may reap the same benefit.

that the physicians done for me brought no permanent relief. Friends insisted that I should give S. S. S. a fair trial, although I thought it would be throwing away money.
After taking a thorough course, my health

S. S. alone cured me, as I discarded all

THE BASLER MURDER.

Comments of a heattle Paper on the Crime and Victim. Since the murder of G. A. Basler, in Seattle, the newspapers of that place have had a great deal of comment upon it. The first dispatch received here in regard to the murder stated that a woman was mixed up in McCreary, at Tenth and L streets, and sold the affair, but this statement seems to have it to the foreman of a down-town livery been entirely unfounded. Basler kept a stable for $10 and a watch. He also had in livery stable in this city, and was well his possession a boy's saddle, which he sold known here. At one time he was considered "wild," but he went to Seattle, settled down and became a steady business. Tivoli saloon, for $2. The latter sold the from California. tled down and became a steady business man. The Seattle Independent, in commenting on the murder, says: "The killing of Mr. Basler, the owner of the Lake Union Laundry, appears plainly, from all that has been heard about it, to be a brutal, premeditated murder. It was committed by a man who has lived only a short time coast, and who seems to think, on this coast, and who seems to think, to judge from his actions and threats previous to the deed, that a little shooting in this far Northwestern country is permissible. It is to be hoped, for the safety of our citizens and for the better information of, and as a warning to, the strangers in our midst who may investigate the in our midst, who may imagine that they are outside of the pale of civilization, that swift and sure retribution to the full extent of the law will follow the murder. "Mr. Basler has been a quiet, inoffensive citizen, who labored hard under the most difficult circumstances to establish a white laundry to compete with the Chinese wash-houses. He has been a useful member of our community, and nobody who knew him can help feeling shocked at his un-timely end. Let justice r-venge the crime committed against him and the community without delay, or we may expect other murders to follow this one.

A PIONEER'S DEATH.

Thomas Findley Dies at Georgetown of Acute Pneumonia.

Wednesday evening announced that Thos. Findley died early that morning of acute pneumonia at Georgetown, El Dorado county, where he has for many years been engaged in superintending ditch and mining operations. The body has been taken to San Francisco, where the widow and six or seven children reside. In speaking of his death the Nevada Transcript says: In the early fifties Mr. Findley drove a freighting team between this city and Sacwards conducted at the same town a private bank, which failed in 1875.

In 1859 he was elected State Treasurer on the Democratic ticket, and served one term. His satisfactory administration earned for him the cognomen, "Honest Tom." In 1861 he was again a candidate for the same position on what was by its enemies called the "Secession ticket." He ran some 4,000 votes ahead of the ticket, but was nevertheless defeated. In 1869 and again in 1871 he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Both times he was defeated, his building of the Nevada County Narrow Upon the failure of the bank at Grass Valley he removed with his family to San

ing Governor Haight, who was afterwards

The foregoing sketch of his life is obtained from some of his old-time friends here, who quote the dates from memory.

He is very highly spoken of by them, and sorrow at his death is expressed here among his pioneer acquaintances, who held him in high esteem.

Death of Two Ploneers. George McKee, who has resided in this section for over thirty-five years, died at the residence of his daughter-in-law Mrs. May McKee, vesterday morning. Deceased was the father of Auditor McKee, and at the time of his death was 83 years of age. He was born in county Armagh in 1805, and emigrated to America in 1813. He passed his youth in Canada, and in the early fifties removed to California, where he since resided. For a time he worked in six acts and eight tableaux, with new scenery by J. R. Wilkins, novel mechanical in the mines of Calaveras, and was a resident of Mokelumne Hill. On leaving the mines, many years ago, he came to Sacramento, and since that time resided in this and Yolo counties. The funeral will take place to-morrow from No. 513 J street.

Andrew M. Thomas, one of the oldest printers on the coast, died Thursday evening at his residence 328 P street, after a protracted illness. He was one of the first printers who engaged in that business on the coast; has been connected with the typographical department of several of the pest journals in the State, and for many years was employed at the State Printin lice. —Judgment for plaintiff, by consent.

Gottleib F. Koenig, a native of Germany, admitted to citizenship on the testimony of H. Scheunert and W. Nagle.

A Warning. The modes of death's approach are vaious, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system, and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly, and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat, and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs, producing con-sumption, and to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous, and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous, and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup.

WORK OF THE BOYS' AND GIRLS' AID SOCIETY.

In Interesting Statement and Appeal by the Superintendent of the Institution.

James C. Kemp, Superintendent of the wide fame. Girls' and Boys' Aid Society, San Francisco, makes the following statement to and a musical critic has justly said, had he not with the indorsement of that journal:

the State of California. It wants every minister within the boundaries of this great commonwealth to preach at least one ermon each year upon the subject of all subjects and the theme of all themes, the saving of the children, as outlined in its work and purpose; to assist in educating the people up to the grand idea of family omes versus institutions, and to urge apon their congregations the vital necesity of doing all they can toward procuring omes for the poor, abandoned, abused, fatherless, motherless, and often worse than orphan children of both sexes, whose aggregate reaches far into the thousands; to devote a portion of their time and money towards saving those who are just com-mencing to ascend the eastern side of the countains, as well as in aid of such as, having made a failure of life, are fast nearing the base of the western slope that borders upon and enters the ocean of eternity. Never before have the servants of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come ake no other. They are the best in the

> than those of any other portion of Amerca; yet, while it is so true and so pleasant o write about, there is still another side, o black, so terrible, that the heart sickens in its contemplation, and in tones that, were it possible, would cause tears of blood to flow from the eyes of the angels, cry and wine, its vineyards, orange groves, orchards and matchless climate?" And yet, nowhere in America, north, south, east or west, are the children, as a whole, so unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven," had so glorious, so priceless an infortunate as here. Men and women came originally, singly, to seek their fortunes, leaving behind all their relatives, and to this day, in a great measure, the rule holds good. Then, again, married people who come hither leave their friends behind, some in the been that when sickness or death entered gle to bring up the children. Then, too, ...5,000 Shares | gle to bring up the Chind Chinese in Cali-> after a father's or mother's care, is employment in some useful occupation. Idleness egets demoralization, and that soon leads crime and utter ruin.

The Boys' and Girls' Aid Society realzes all this; it knows that the family ome is the first form of society established y the Creator, the unit of our civiliza-

One man married sacredly to one woman, and their children constitute the family-an aggregate of these the town, a eries of towns the county, a number of counties the State, a union of many States the nation; the work of all depending on the purity of the family home, God's own handiwork. To such homes, and only such, it consigns its wards.

Do not these simple outlines furnish ood for earnest thought? What nobler heme could any minister of God choose? It asks the Superintendent of each Sabath-school to present the features and obects of this great work to the scholars, and ask of them a small contribution once a rear in aid of its poor, unfortunate chillren; and, finally, it earnestly desires the unqualified, hearty co-operation of the teachers of the public schools, everywhere proughout the State.

Let the purpose of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of the State of California be the theme of an occasional composition, and let each child have an opportunity to contribute something once a year, if it be only a nickel, towards its maintenance. Our Special Agent, Ulysses Stedman, whose heart and soul are in his work, will visit as many schools as possible, and in a ew well-chosen remarks present this great abject to the scholars; and right here we ask for him a hearty, whole-souled recepion, and when he shall have gone, will not the teachers kindly enlarge upon the ew remarks he will have made, and thus ant in the minds and hearts of their puils the seed that shall spring up and row, and finally give us hundreds of riends among the men and women of the day and generation? We were not placed in this world to live or ourselves. Some of us have talents. others have not. Some are gifted with aculties that lead directly on to fortune. our fathers fought, bled and died that we night enjoy the privileges of civil and reigious liberty; sacrificed life, comfort, ome and family for us; and should we live contemptibly and niggardly for ourselves? Viewing the subject in this light, which is certainly the true one, where is the man or woman who should not esteem to give a little of their substance towards this, the charity of all charities? For, when we save the children, we save all.

So, too, our various charitable institutions and asylums, but this society goes far below any of these, and grapples 360 Lots at $300 Apiece goes far below any of these, and grapples with B class that in many instances never saw the inside of a church, Sabbath school or even public school; children that come to it in rags and tatters, filth and vermin, and frequently worn, wasted and pallid with disease. This, readers, is real, practical work; it is pre-eminently Christian work; it is God's work; it is the noblest work, foul, lirty and disagreeable though it surely is, that ever fell to the lot of mortal hands

Will you not study into it, help it along by every means in your power, thus doing a deed that the Recording Angel will place to your everlasting credit, that will cause you to feel yourself a better man or woman, and lead you to afterwards realize, in all their sweetness and comfort, the true meaning of the beautiful words: Nearer, My God, to Thee ?"

SOME FAMOUS SONGS. and the Peculiar Circumstances Under Which They Were Written.

Almost the only exception to the usual obscurity of song writers is John Howard Payne, of whom more has probably been written and printed than of all others combined. Nevertheless, as much that has appeared in relation to his famous song, "Home, Sweet Home," has been purely imaginary, we may, perhaps, be pardoned if we introduce here the true story of this far-famed melody.

It was in Italy that Payne first heard the air for which his song was written. As BOOT, NEILSON & CO.,

The was strolling one morning along a quiet country road he was struck by the sweet voice of a peasant girl, who was carrying to the city a basket laden with flowers and fruit. The plaintive air which she thrilled with so much sweetness and simplicity at once caught his fancy. He accosted her, and after a few moments' conversation asked the name of the song, which she was unable to give. However, using his knowledge of music to good purpose, he requested her to repeat the air, while he proceeded to write down the notes. He soon afterwards composed the words, and, with the aid of a musician named Bishop, wedded them to the Italian air, incorporating the song into his opera of "Clari," which soon gave it a world-The only rival to "Home, Sweet Home," is C. S. Foster's "Old Folks at Home." As which is published in the Child and State, made the words of the song local by introducing the Suwanee river, it might well The Boys' and Girls' Aid Society needs of the world. Stephen Collins Foster was have equaled the former as the home song the help of every friend of humanity in a strangely retiring and diffident author, and some of his most beautiful songs were composed under the most incongruous conditions. A writer who met him in New York in 1852 says that his favorite haunt was in a tumble-down grocery near the Bowery, in the little back room of which one, at least, of his famous melodies was written. Foster was a true poet as well as composer, and wrote both the words and music of all his songs.

somewhat peculiar, and would astonish many musicians. Mr. Howard is a negro minstrel by profession. He writes the words of his songs himself, and then, with the other members of the company, proceeds to drum out on hotel pianos a suit able air. It sometimes requires several instruments and changes of scene to produce a taking song, which, when completed, is written out and tried upon the audience in the evening. If the song pleases it is sent to the publisher and put upon the market. The composer, Dexter Smith, is known

To many He has been most considerate, and a very large number of our people are the possessors of a far larger average of wealth than those of any other portion of A to have made several attempts before hit-"Say, ma'am, put me in my little bed." There is a subject, thought the song writer, and on reaching home he proceeded to write out what he considered the flattest song of which he was capable. The result were it possible, would cause tears of blood to flow from the eyes of the angels, cry out, "Oh God, can such things be, can so much misery exist side by side with untold affluence in this golden, sunny California, with its wealth of precious metals, corn with its wealth of precious metals, corn Me in My Little Bed" soon reached an enormous figure.

The familiar "Peek-a-Boo," which has now been worn nearly threadbare, was, according to its author, Mr. Scanlan, an inspiration of the moment. It was suggested by the gambols of some children, who were playing around the door where he was sitting idly picking out tunes upon an accordion. As the children peeped curiously into his door he began to say " Peekleave their friends behind, some in the East, many in Europe, and the result has Unconsciously the instrument played a few notes to suit what he was saying, and the

Among the ladies present was one who so strikingly esembled the ideal portrait of Longfellow's "Evangeline" that she was at once given that nickname by the young composer. The company had organized uartet and had given a large number of copular selections during the evening. It was a bright, moonlight night when they started to return home, and "Evangeline suggested that they try some new song. "I will write you a song," said Hays. if you will promise to sing it before we go

A fire had recently been built near by and a number of charred sticks lay attered around. Picking up several of these, Hays walked over to the fence and proceeded to write the first verse of his song on the top plank, and the notes for the quartet of voices on the four planks beneath. As all could read music, they stood back a short distance and had no difficulty in singing it. The girls insisted on having a chorus, and the author went to the end of the fence and there wrote out the chorus. The party sang it over and over, and at last went home with it on

The following day Mr. Hays was reuested by "Evangeline" to write out a opy on paper, but he laughingly told her hat she could go down to the fence and copy it off. The young lady took him at his word, and though it was raining hard she started out and returned with the words and music complete. To reward her, Hays then added another verse, and soon after the lady returned to her home in St. Louis, taking the song with her. On her inging it there it attracted much attenion, and she finally sent it back to the author to have it published.—Charles F. Adams, in the Musical Journal.

It cures constipation by gently assisting without forcing constipation by gently assisting without forcing nature. It imparts a vigorous tone to the digestive organs, improves the appetite, enriches the blood, builds up and restores the wasted energies, giving tone and vigor to the whole system.

Mrs. Sephen Menari. of Macon, Ga., says:
"My husband being blind 'or a number of years, required him to lead a very sedentary life, and he suffered extremely from indigestion. He heard of Simmons Liver Regulator, and commenced to take it regularly. The indigestion has left him, and he has become more cheerful and hearty—in fact, enjoys better health now than he has known for years. # DIAMOND DYES

Brilliant! Durable! Economical!

Diamond Dyes excel all others in Strength, Purity, and Fastness. None other are just as good. Beware of imitations, because they are made of cheap and inferior materials and give poor, weak, crocky colors. To be sure of success use only the DIAMOND DYES for coloring Dresses, Stockings, Yarns, Carpets, Feathers, Ribbons, &c., &c. We warrant them to color more goods, package for package, than any other dies ever made, and to give more brilliant and durable colors. Ask for the DIAMOND, and take no other. Send postal for Dye Book, Sample Card, directions for coloring Photos, making the finest Ink or Bluing
